IV – PRACTICE

The day before the competition starts.

Notes on Greensome:

- The partner will play the provisional ball.
- If both balls may be lost or out of bounds, each partner may play a provisional ball.
- Both teams should identify which ball is “chosen” before any ball is played.
- If either player or partner causes one of the balls to move (address, loose impediment or other cause) before a choice is made, any penalties will be confined to that ball.
- Once a choice is made – either oral or tacit – it is irrevocable. That is the only ball in play, ie having made a choice, if a penalty is incurred with the chosen ball, the other ball may not now be selected even if has not yet been lifted.
